we provide turnkey and packaging solutions from start to finish

we produce on-trend packaging and develop formulas consumers love

we sweat the tough stuff, so our clients don't to have to

We break the boundaries of creativity & innovation.

Our services have grown to encompass the development and production process. We provide reliable, full-service solutions to create products for beauty brands, accelerating their entry to market. We deliver high quality solutions whether brands have a strong vision or need a bit of creative direction.

our offering

We meet you where you are. Our team can either manage the entire supply chain process for you or provide specific manufacturing solutions wherever needed.

turnkey

Looking for the quickest entry to market without sacrificing quality and budget? Formulation and packaging go hand-in-hand and each year we develop in-demand and on-trend turnkey collections, ready for you to customize and launch immediately.

packaging

Stand out from the crowd with custom packaging perfectly suited for your formulas. From custom tooling to endless deco options, we have countless capabilities to help you develop award-winning products, including innovative sustainable options.

our services

concepting

From art direction to design and formulation, our experienced team’s extensive knowledge of beauty packaging and product development will help you perfect your concept from beginning to end.

design

Using a variety of methods like 3D renderings, drawings, sketches, trend presentations and more, we collaborate with you to design show-stopping products and custom packaging.

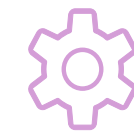

product development

Our engineering, development and design folks work together to ensure everything goes right. Striking the perfect balance between formulation and packaging, we also offer guidance on suitable eco-friendly and ergonomic packaging.

formulation

Our in-house formulators stay at the forefront of trends and translate them into fabulous creations. We work with the best labs, both domestically and globally to enhance or develop custom high-quality formulas for your brand.

production

Our long-standing relationships with our network of suppliers allow us to manufacture all over the world. Regardless of your needs we produce the highest quality standards—keeping on time and on budget.

logistics

We help you avoid the logistical nightmares and costly mistakes by getting your product exactly where it needs to be. From raw materials to bottom labels, we'll coordinate everything and track all the moving parts. Don’t worry, we have you covered and will keep you informed every step of the way.

sustainability

We believe that sustainability is a moral and business imperative.

We will continue to help revolutionize the beauty industry by offering the latest sustainable and eco-friendly innovations.

sustainable options

We have implemented initiatives based on a written policy starting in 2018 to better serve both the planet and our customers. Our environmental initiatives span these 4 primary categories.

1. post consumer recycled plastic (pcr)

PCR plastic reduces energy use, solid waste, and CO2 emissions by 50-80% compared to virgin plastic

2. bio based plastic

Plant based byproducts (primarily corn and rice husk), represent a significant portion of the package, reducing petroleum based plastic usage

3. reusable & refillable products

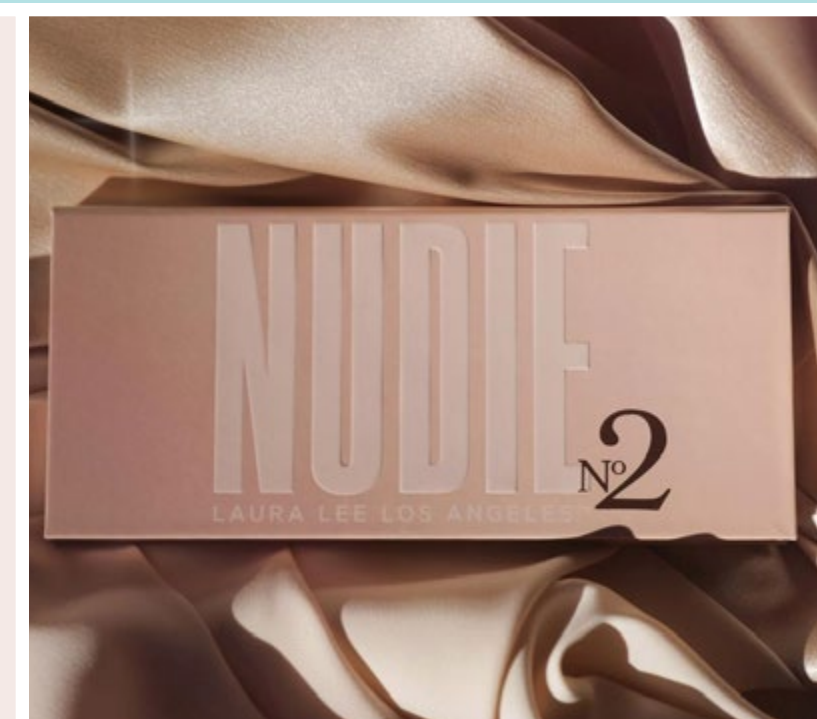

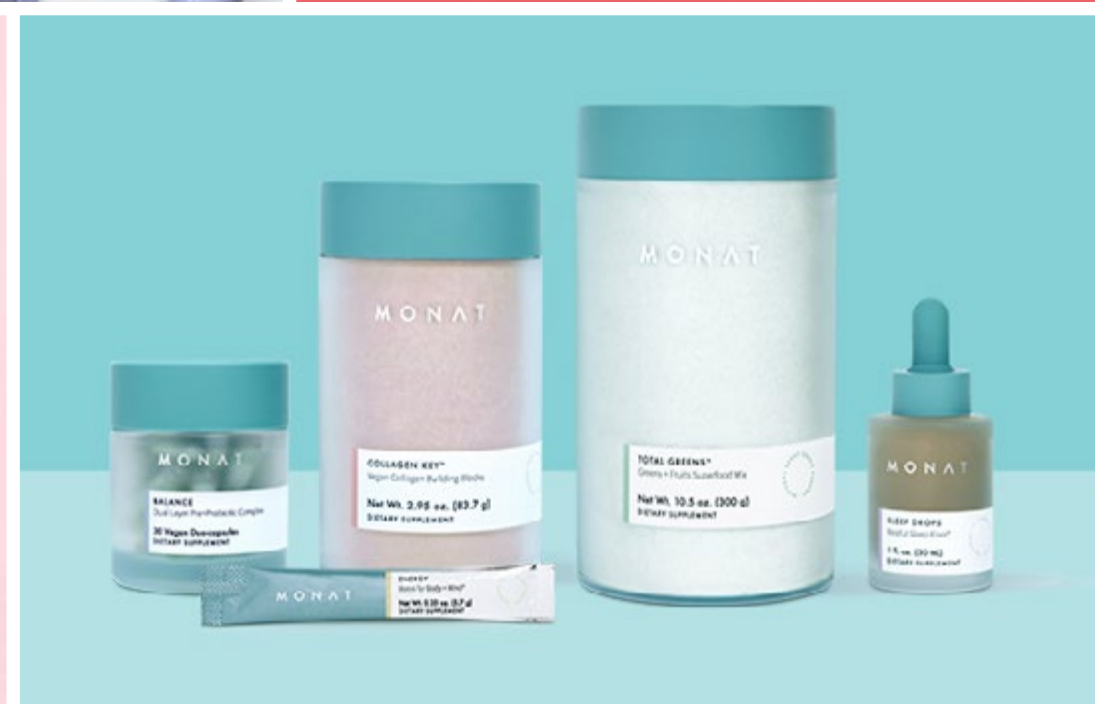

Create beautiful outer packaging with recyclable / recycled refill cartridges

4. recyclable products

Avoiding styrene and using single materials that can be recycled after use without contaminating streams

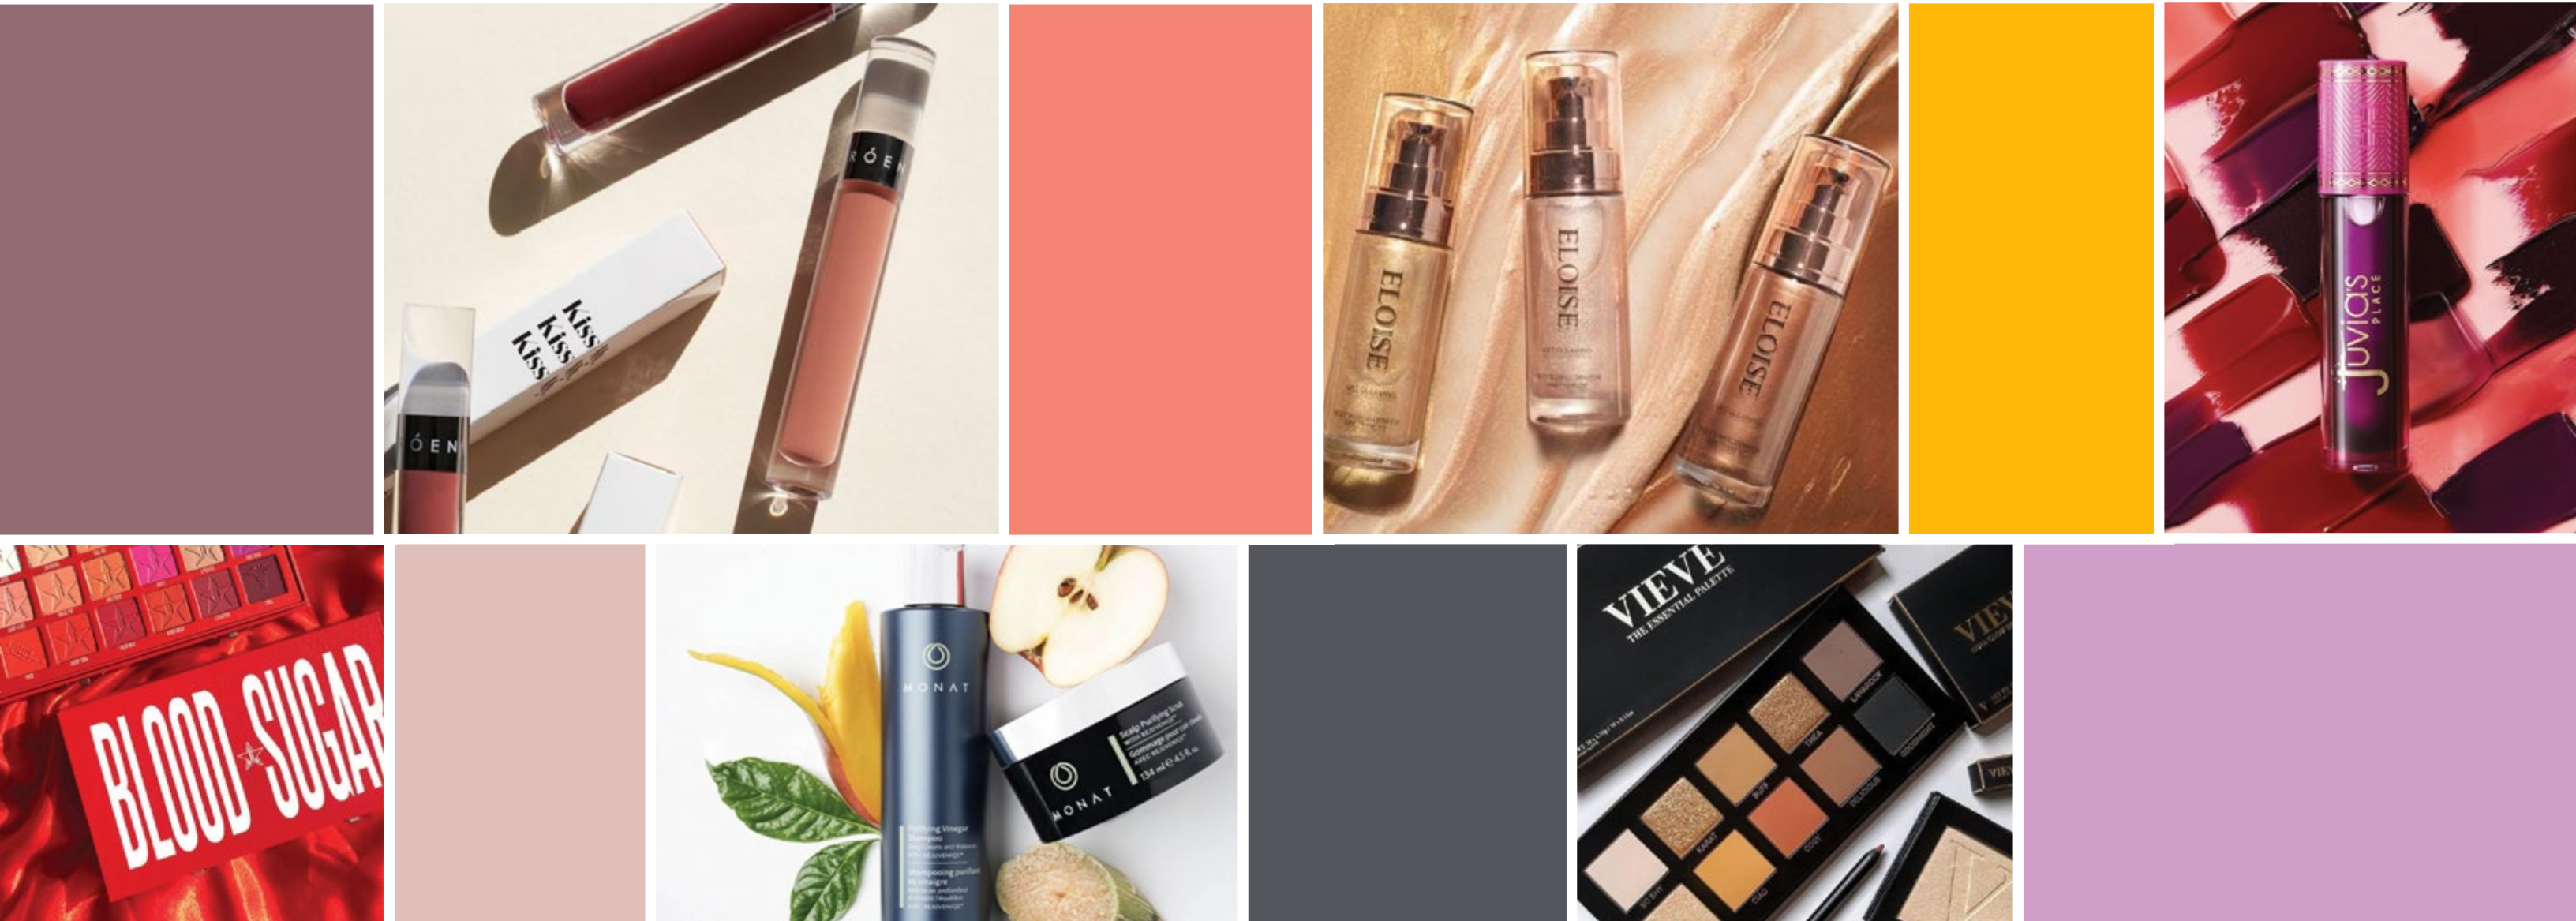

clients

the cosmopak client is the future of beauty

Our clients are innovative beauty brands with a clear vision and strong purpose.

They put their consumer first and strive to deliver high performing products. As a brand they know who they are, what they provide, and will not sacrifice quality to achieve their goals.
